Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) Responsive to communication(s) filed on 09 August 2004.
- 2a) This action is FINAL. 2b) This action is non-final.
- 3) Since this application is in condition for allowance except for formal matters, prosecution as to the merits is closed in accordance with the practice under Ex parte Quayle, 1935 C.D. 11, 453 O.G. 213.

DETAILED ACTION

CLAIMS PRESENTED

All previous claims were cancelled.

The latest amendment newly presented claims 39-74.

CLAIM REJECTIONS

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 39-74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Cook et al. (cited by Applicant, US Patent 5,860,068, hereinafter also referred as “Cook”) and Lewine (cited by Applicant, US Patent 5,784,565) and www.fcc.gov/cgb/consumerfacts/cellphonefraud.html (“FCC”, which discusses the 1998 Act, hence dating the discussed subject material as being from the year 1998).

Regarding claim 39, Cook teaches “A system comprising: a server ... to a computer network; ... device inventory database ... to the server comprising ... device inventory database; and an advanced ordering server module ... to the server wherein the advanced ordering server module is capable of communicating with an ... customer workstation. (column 3, lines 30-46, i.e. launching to website – which suggests server, database, etc., also e-mail – which suggests such communication, etc.).”

These passages of Cook do not teach “operably connected” in the sense of the claim.

Lewine teaches “operably connected (column 2, lines 50-65, i.e. profile, password)” for the motivation of providing convenient access to the user (column 2, lines 50-65, i.e. “never has to enter it again”).

Hence, it would have been obvious to those of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the claimed invention to combine Cook with Lewine for the motivation noted in the previous paragraphs so as to teach the claimed invention.

Neither Lewine nor Cook are explicit about “MIN ... ESN ... wireless communication.”

FCC teaches “MIN ... ESN ... wireless communication (the fourth paragraph, i.e. cell phone, ESN, MIN)” for the motivation of security (as noted in the fourth paragraph).

Hence, it would have been obvious to those of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the claimed invention to combine the teachings of Cook with that of Lewine and that of FCC for the motivation noted in the previous paragraphs so as to teach the claimed invention.

Regarding claim 40, such features (XML-RPC, etc.) are well known in the art for the purpose of having effective protocols of information transfer.

Regarding claims 41-58, such features of customer handling are well known in the art for the purpose of effective e-commerce.

Regarding claims 59, 60, such features using MIN and ESN are well known for the purpose of security.

Claims 61-74 are method analogs and computer program analogs of corresponding claims of claims 39-60. For the reasons noted in the rejections of claims 39-60, claims 61-74 are not patentable.

Conclusion

The art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The art disclosed general background.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
